WELCOME TO WORD LIVING

LEARNING TO TRUST AND OBEY THE WORD THE MY WAY GENERATION?

By the grace and mercy of God we are here and thankful for his many blessings.

Let us be swift to share God's word in speech and action. For the time moves closer to his second coming and we want none to be lost.

We began in Judges Chapter 2:1-10 (KJV). When we read verse 10, those who followed God had died and there arose a generation that did not know God, nor the works that he had done for Israel.

Walk with me and review the past years. Where were we as Satan stripped God's voice from the normal everyday interactions of everyday life? Did we know the future impact? Did we care? Look around, do you want change? If the answer is yes, then...

...WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

Moral values do of course change from generation to generation, but there is evidence of a decline in the ability to discern what the boundaries are. By social fragmentation, I mean the rise of “individualism” and the breakdown of family and community relationships.

When I read the above statement years ago, it seemed to have some merit, yet, the depth of the issue was not felt until the instant visual from the news around the world and within our cities, painted a blatant picture of selfishness, uncontrolled anger, murder without remorse, and the scene of coldness that has replaced the love of God such that it caused the mind to abandon God and follow self. We now have physical living bodies controlled by satanic reasoning's. Living bodies with dead souls, deaf ears, and blinded eyes.

On our own we have no power, but there is a greater power that we have access to if we would just obey - 2 Chronicles 7:14 (KJV).

If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

A PLACE TO START!

There were three (3) key forces that can interact together to instill positive living values in each of us. Those three (3) are the home, the church, and the school. And there is a 4th that must be watched at all times for it can change like the wind depending on the group.

Parents are the primary teachers but not the only teachers.

- a) Home where children receive visual learning about life and self-esteem.
- b) Sunday school where they learn about their purpose, faith, hope, unconditional love, responsibility, family, and eternity.

- c) School where they receive information useful in career development and interaction.
- d) Peer groups - the in your face daily teachers and trend setters.

Parents are the primary teachers, but they must make sure to develop relationships and spend time with their children to address actions that are deadly to the positive future God has for them. Parents must, by example, teach the importance of living a Godly life. One of the best ways is to attend Sunday school with them. When you do that, you show the value that you place on obedience to the word of God and how it directs every area of life in a positive manner.

Live the word so they see the word in every decision you make, and how to respond when God says wait or no.

Take time to ask them about school activities. Showing interest and providing the reason why is key. Create a “me time” and when you interact with each child, point out the positive so when a negative issue comes up they do not associate that as the only way to respond or interact when they do wrong.

Visit the school/classroom and encourage the teacher who has your child/children all day. Work as a team so there is no opportunity to divide the unity between home, church and school. Help prepare them to be their very best and a positive force that will help make a difference in their futures.

The interaction of family, church, school, neighborhoods, and extended communities cannot redesign the perfect plan of God and expect it to work. History records when God’s plan is rewritten to man’s purpose, it fails, and many are lost.

God has the best plan and it cannot fail. We have a choice. Choose wisely.
